

Support local during COVID-19

Local shops and restaurants are what make downtown Wichita a unique urban center. Many of our businesses are offering specials, online ordering and delivery services.

This webpage was created as a one-stop resource to provide information for the community to support our local shops and restaurants, their workers and the service industry. This page will be updated regularly as new information becomes available. Thank you for supporting local businesses during this challenging time.

If you are a shop or restaurant in the downtown district with an update to this list, please email your information to Megan Hartzell, Director of Communications for Downtown Wichita.
