The Coronavirus Aid, Relief, and Economic Security (CARES) Act was recently enacted into law with $350B in dedicated funds to help small businesses keep workers employed amid the pandemic. Since that time, funds dedicated to the Paycheck Protection Program and the Economic Injury and Disaster Loans have been depleted. Now, the Federal Government has passed additional funding measures, totaling $484B. Implementation is set to begin as early as next week. Specific updates to the extension include:

- $320B extension of the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP)
 - A dedicated amount of the new funds ($60B) are earmarked for PPP loans from smaller banks to reach more small and minority-owned businesses, particularly in underserved communities and rural areas.
- $60B extension of Economic Injury and Disaster Loans (EIDL)
 - Includes an additional $50B for low-interest loans and $10B in grants through the U.S. Small Business Administration, with a new inclusion for agricultural enterprises.
- $100B in new funding for Public Health and Social Services Emergency Fund
 - $75B for healthcare providers and hospital aid to cover expenses or lost revenues due to COVID-19.
 - $25B to expand testing (including research, development, validate, manufacture, purchase, administer and/or expand capacity).

Key information on the Paycheck Protection Program (PPP)

- Small businesses and 501(c)(3)s with fewer than 500 employees can apply.

SBA Economic Injury Disaster Loan Program

Businesses across the nation are experiencing a dip in revenues or other economic impacts (supply chain costs, etc.) caused by the COVID-19 disruption. The Federal Government has authorized the U.S. Small Business Administration to provide low-interest loans directly to small business through a new program titled the Economic Injury Disaster Loans, in order for these companies to stay operational during the crisis. These low-interest loans will help alleviate economic injury for small businesses and can assist companies in staying operational during the crisis.

Program highlights:

- Loans are available statewide to small businesses and private, non-profit organizations to help alleviate economic injury caused by the Coronavirus (COVID-19).
- The program provides up to $2 million for fixed debts, payroll, accounts payable, commercial loans payments and other bills that can't be paid because of the disaster's impact.
- The interest rate is 3.75% for small businesses and 2.75% for non-profits.

Businesses can begin applying for disaster loan assistance through the SBA at disasterloan.sba.gov/ela.

Families First Coronavirus Response Act Becomes Law

The U.S. House of Representatives passed the Families First Coronavirus Response Act (H.R. 6201), which, among many other things, provides paid leave for employees who must stay home to care for themselves or their families during the COVID-19 pandemic. The Senate passed the Act, and President Trump signed it into law. The Act makes sweeping changes to the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and has immediate consequences for employers.

The Act creates two types of paid leave: (1) up to two weeks of sick leave for an employee who is subject to quarantine or experiencing COVID-19 symptoms, is caring for someone who is quarantined or ill, or is caring for a child who cannot go to school; (2) and up to 12 weeks of FMLA leave for an employee to care for a child who cannot go to school or daycare because of COVID-19. Employers will be subsidized for the paid leave through tax credits. Learn more here and at the links below.

IRS extends filing deadline and federal tax payments

The U.S. Treasury Department and Internal Revenue Service announced that the federal income tax filing due date is automatically extended from April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020. Taxpayers can also defer federal income tax payments due on April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020, without penalties and interest, regardless of the amount owed. This deferment applies to all taxpayers, including individuals, trusts and estates, corporations and other non-corporate tax filers as well as those who pay self-employment tax. Learn more.
