Residential Development

Downtown Wichita has approximately 1,500 residential units. The U.S. Census Bureau, 2007-2011 American Community Survey (for zip code 67202) states that the average owner household size in Downtown is 1.61 persons and 1.27 persons for the average renter household. These include residential units that are for lease and for sale condominiums.

Demand for residential remains strong in Downtown Wichita with nearly all of the current properties' occupancy rates approaching 95%, many with waiting lists. In addition, newly opened developments, such as the Renfro and the Player Piano Lofts have seen impressive absorption rates, leasing their units in a matter of months.

Developers have realized the demand and as an indicator of the market's strength we have new residential construction underway; including the 133-unit VALUE PLACE APARTMENTS, and the 36-unit Corner 365.

From a market perspective, the assets of Downtown Wichita that make it an attractive place to live include:

Historic buildings

The number of significant architectural and historical buildings provide a unique identity unlike anywhere else in Wichita.

Employment

Downtown Wichita is a regional employment center and home to a variety of businesses, as well as multiple city, county and state offices. There are approximately 26,000 daytime workers in Downtown.

Culture and Entertainment

The Orpheum Theatre and the Century II Performing Arts Center are now joined by the INTRUST Bank Arena, providing another Downtown venue for concerts, cultural activities, and sports events. Wichita is home to Music Theatre of Wichita, the Wichita Grand Opera, and Wichita Symphony Orchestra, as well as one of the few cities with a Downtown multi-plex movie theater, the Old Town Warren. Several museums are located in or adjacent to Downtown: the Wichita Art Museum, the Wichita-Sedgwick County Historical Museum and Museum of World Treasures, among others. The Lawrence-Dumont Stadium, just across the river from Downtown, is home to the Wingnuts, a baseball team in the North Division of the American Association of Independent Professional Baseball. INTRUST Bank Arena is also home to the Wichita Thunder, a Central Hockey League team.

Shopping and Dining

Almost 50 restaurants and over 70 retail stores are located in and around Old Town and Delano, as well as scattered throughout the Downtown area.

Walkability

Downtown is compact enough to walk from one end to the other. To aid in walkability and transportation, the Q-Line service runs on a fixed circular route within Downtown and is free of charge. There are currently efforts to expand the trolley service to attract greater ridership. See pages 14-15 for the Q-Line Route.

Location and Access

Being in the geographic center of Wichita, Downtown is well positioned in the citywide and regional arterial network, which makes it a convenient and highly accessible area by car.

Project Downtown - Housing Market Demand

Downtown Wichita offers a strong potential for new residential units. Recent analysis from Zimmerman/Volk Associates, Inc. suggest that just over 2,500 young singles and couples, empty nesters and retirees, and traditional and non-traditional families currently living in the draw areas comprise the potential market for new housing units located within the Downtown area in the next ten years. Based on the tenure (renter/buyer) and lifestyle preferences of the draw area households that represent the potential market for the Downtown area, and excluding those households with preferences for single-family detached units, the potential market for new dwelling units within the Downtown area is approximately 1,500 units: 750 - multi-family for rent, 525- multi-family for sale, 225- single-family attached for sale.

Hotel Development

There are six properties containing a total of 994 rooms that fall within the Downtown district boundaries. There are two other hotels within the 67202 zip code (Hotel at WaterWalk and Holiday Inn Express Hotel) that are not included in the statistics, but are shown in the map to the left. The hotels within Downtown Wichita SSMID district include: The Drury Plaza Hotel Broadview (200 rooms), Courtyard by Marriott (128 rooms), Hotel at Old Town (115 rooms), Hyatt Regency (303 rooms), Fairfield Inn & Suites Wichita Downtown (131 rooms), and The Ambassador Hotel at Block One (117 rooms).

The Broadview, Ambassador and Hyatt Regency are full-service properties, while the Courtyard and Hotel at Old Town, and Fairfield Inn & Suites are limited service.

Project Downtown - Hotel Market Demand

In a 2010 study by W-ZHA, LLC, Sarah Woodworth found that Downtown Wichita offers a strong potential for new lodging developments. Compared to the 42% office share that is in Downtown Wichita, there is only a 16% share of hotel rooms. While Downtown Wichita may not capture 42 percent (its share of the regional office market) of regional room supply, as office demand growth strengthens in Downtown Wichita this will generate increased lodging demand. Downtown Wichita also maintains the dominant position in the Wichita convention and meetings market.

Downtown Wichita has many amenities that increasingly provide compelling reasons for travelers to stay Downtown. Old Town has been a major destination for Downtown travelers; other amenities include the City's museums and the new INTRUST Bank Arena.

Downtown Wichita contains a limited supply of properties in limited-service, middle-market and budget categories. While Downtown's full-service niche may be adequately served at this time, strong performances at the Hotel at Old Town and Courtyard by Marriott properties indicate the strength of Downtown's limited-service hotel market.

Over the next ten years, Downtown Wichita is likely to support two to four more facilities, containing a supply of 250-400 rooms.

Retail Development

The retail market will prove to be a key component in the revitalization effort of Downtown Wichita. With roughly 120 stores and restaurants Downtown, there will be a large opportunity for retail expansion in the area. In addition to restaurants and nightclubs, the current retail market offers a variety of stores. Downtown's retail mix attracts multiple niche markets, including hipsters (young, creatively and alternatively-minded types who live in and are drawn to the underground), yupsters (creatively and alternatively-minded types who are more established and affluent, ranging from young professionals to empty nesters) and young adults (college students and recent graduates). Different districts of Downtown tend to offer something for everyone, from Old Town, to WaterWalk and focusing on these specific niches, there is a great opportunity for retail expansion.

Project Downtown - Retail Market Demand

In a recent study, Michael Berne of MJB Consultants recommended ways to utilize the different niches already established within downtown Wichita.

Businesses focusing on “hipsters” (young, creatively and alternatively-minded types who live in and are drawn to the underground) should be targeted towards the Delano business district. Examples include funky footwear and vintage clothing shops.

Businesses directed at “yupsters” (creatively and alternatively-minded types who are more established and affluent, ranging from young professionals to empty nesters) should be steered towards Old Town and the emerging Old Town West. Examples include “upscale bohemian” fashion boutiques and “cross-over” ethnic eateries.

Businesses catering to “young adults” (college students and recent graduates) should be directed to Old Town and surrounding blocks. Examples include “cheap chic” purveyors and dance clubs.

The sorts of retail uses for which WaterWalk (and the South Main Street corridor, more generally) would be appropriate are those “one-per-market” brands, like Gander Mountain, that seek a central location easily accessible from the entire metro and therefore covet the close proximity to the U.S. 400/U.S. 54/East Kellogg Avenue freeway, and that are willing and able to stand alone.

One of the largest potential catalysts of Downtown retail is the INTRUST Bank Arena. The concerts, Wichita Thunder games and a variety of events generate large numbers of potential customers for nearby restaurants and nightspots, with the impact especially significant during the week, when such establishments would otherwise be less busy.

The crowd attracted by the arena consists of far more than just students and recent graduates. The establishments likely to be the most successful in catering to the arena traffic are the ones that appeal to the broadest possible market. Even if Downtown Wichita can no longer be a mass-market shopping destination for an entire region, it can still be – and indeed should be – something that belongs to everyone, a true crossroads that in some ways welcomes all of Wichita, with businesses that are relevant to a wide audience and not just to one or two narrowly defined niche markets.

Office

Development

Downtown Wichita contains approximately 5 million square feet of public and private office space with 26,000 employees. This number has increased recently due to the expansion of Airbus in Old Town and Cargill in the core. Of that 5 million square feet, approximately 3.1 million is private, multi-tenant office space. This represents 42 percent of the multi-tenant office supply in the overall Wichita office market. Owner-occupied office space represents 20 percent of the office supply with the remaining office consisting of public sector employees.

Among the five buildings that make up Class-A office space, the vacancy rate currently stands at less than 10% (per NAI Martens Group), and these buildings can accommodate only two or three tenants seeking contiguous blocks of 10,000 square feet or more. In contrast to the Class-A multi-tenant office market, the overall vacancy rate in Class-B properties is estimated at 32% (per NAI Martens Group). Though there is high Class-B vacancy, many of these buildings have been targeted for residential opportunities.

Visit the appendix for information on available WDDC, City, State and Federal economic development incentives.

Project Downtown - Office Market Demand

This general volume of development is contingent on a wide range of project-specific considerations, including the availability of quality sites, trends in lease rates, parking availability, proximity to amenities, and others. Over the next ten years, Downtown Wichita offers the potential to support roughly 225,000 to 400,000 square feet of net new office development.

To capture this potential will require that office buildings be properly sited and scaled to the target market. The following paragraphs summarize market conclusions with regard to product.

1. Modest Scale – New office buildings will likely range from 40,000 to 80,000 square feet. It will be difficult to achieve the pre-leasing thresholds required by lenders for buildings much larger in scale. Buildings five-stories or less can be “stick-built” which is less expensive than mid and high rise construction. With lower cost comes lower rent.

2. CoolSpace – CoolSpace is office space located in older buildings that are architecturally distinct and within walking distance to restaurants. A share of the office market will locate in these types of buildings. Developers can often take advantage of historic tax credits as a tool to reduce the cost of rehabilitating older buildings to office space. In an effort to keep rents low, some newly constructed office space may be wise to adopt the hard loft concept where large, flexible, high-ceilinged, well lit space can be marketed with the option of minimal tenant finish.

3. Price Point – New office development will require a rent level of at least $25 per square foot. Rents must be this high to offset construction costs and operating expenses.

4. Parking – Office buildings will require parking within easy walking distance to the building. In the near term, the rental market will not bear the cost of structured parking. Public/private financing will be necessary to support the development of structured parking to service Downtown land uses. Parking should be sited in locations where there is the greatest potential for 24-hour use. Office users (and lenders) will demand that parking be available for employees.

5. In or Immediately Adjacent To Mixed-Use Districts – To command the rents required to construct a new office building, Downtown must offer a distinctly “urban” office product. As such, office buildings should not be developed in the middle of a surface parking lot away from the street. Office buildings must be developed in (or adjacent to) those Downtown districts that offer restaurants, entertainment, services and housing within easy walking distance.

Eaton Place Renovations

Cost – N/A

The Eaton Place, a 115-Unit apartment complex in the 500 block of East Douglas is creating three new live-work spaces. The new spaces are the first such units in the Eaton and will be approximately 1,000 sq. ft. each. Rents are expected to be about $1,300 to $1,600 per month and will include washers and dryers. The remodel is scheduled for completion by Dec. 1.

INTRUST Bank Arena's Guitar Bar

Cost - $120,000

A new bar at INTRUST Bank Arena will be on the east side of the main concourse by sections 122/123. Guitar Bar will also feature a giant guitar hanging from the ceiling. A set of bar stools will overlook the Arena's loading dock, where fans will sometimes be able to see pre-show crew activity. The new bar will serve drinks only, including specialty cocktails.

River Vista

Cost - $24.7 Million

The Wichita City Council recently approved a new mixed-use development project for Project Downtown's Catalyst Site One on the west bank of the Arkansas River. The new development, River Vista, will be a 154-unit apartment project with a 20,000 SF two-story commercial building located on McLean Boulevard (to be completed in a future phase). There will be 85 one-bedroom units, 51 two-bedroom units and 18 two-bedroom lofts. A pool deck area and clubhouse will be available for residents. Along with this development, the City has committed to make improvements to the river front and adjacent Delano Park. These enhancements will continue the connective trail system along the river and add an exciting amenity that will allow the general public to further engage the river.

The project also includes a "Boats and Bikes" concept that will be used by area rowing groups and also offer public boat and bike rentals. BeitMisk, a development in Lebanon, inspired the project's modern architectural style. The plan also incorporates 341 public and residential parking spaces and provides improved access to the river and joining trail system.
